

Anna Siewierska, Professor at the Institute of Political Sciences of the University of Rzeszów. Political scientist specializing in psychology of politics, migration and integration policy, the language of politics, political mythology and the influence of new media on politics, especially radicalization and social polarization and populism. Researcher in the international project "DigiPatch. Moving from Networked to Patchworked Society" (NCN, CHANSE ERA-NET Co-fund programme, European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme, under Grant Agreement no. 101004509). <https://digipatch.eu/>

In the years 2018 - 2021 Rector of the European University in Krakow.

Social and feminist activist.