

Dr. Antonio Stango, a political scientist, is the President of the Italian Federation for Human Rights (FIDU – formerly, the Italian Helsinki Committee), Adjunct Professor of International Organisations and Human Rights at Rome Link University, and senior researcher for the Med-Or Foundation. He has been working for human rights since the early 80s, leading several NGOs and international projects, monitoring conflict and crisis areas, consulting for the European Union Commission and Parliament and for the Italian Chamber of Deputies and Senate, and organizing dozens of international conferences. On behalf of various NGOs, he led fact-finding and advocacy missions in a number of countries in Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America and in Australia. From December 2003 to August 2006 has been Project Director of the Freedom House Human Rights Training and Support Program in Kazakhstan. With ECPM – Ensemble contre la peine de mort he has been based in Paris in 2015-2016 as the Coordinator of the VI World Congress Against the Death Penalty, which took place in Oslo in June 2016. A publisher and editor-in-chief of magazines and specialized journals, he authorized a number of essays and articles on human rights and international relations. He is a member of the Scientific Committee of FOREF (Forum Religionsfreiheit) and of the European Centre for Penitentiary Studies (CESP) and has been lecturing in universities and post-graduate courses in Italy (SIOI, Roma Tre, Sapienza, LUMSA), Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, and Uzbekistan. He advocates, among else, for a more efficient international justice and regularly attends the UN Human Rights Council in Geneva, the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe, the OSCE Human Dimension Implementation Meetings and other relevant international fora.