

Ewa Godlewska, Ph.D., employed as a professor at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University, in the Department of Political Systems and Human Rights at the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism. Her most important areas of research interests are the protection of the rights of national minorities and immigrants in Austria, Polish-Austrian relations, the ethnic policy of modern European countries, modern migrations in Europe and the broadly understood issue of human rights protection, with particular emphasis on the protection of the rights of national and ethnic minorities. Author of several dozen publications in the field of human rights, national minority rights and migration policy. Multiple juror of the human rights knowledge competitions at the Lublin province level. Member of the Polish Society of Political Science and vice-president of its Lublin branch. Participant of the 2007-2008 supervisor grant (research project of the Ministry of Science and Higher Education), the “Research, Innovation, Development” project, co-financed by the European Union under the European Social Fund (2013), the “Development and Cooperation Program” project (2012-2014) and the “Polish-Italian “Support for Development” project, co-financed by the European Union under the European Social Fund from the Knowledge Education Development Operational Program (2017).