

Krzysztof Żarna. Graduate of history (Higher School of Pedagogy in Rzeszów, 1999), doctor of humanities in history (University of Rzeszów, 2005), habilitated doctor of social sciences in political science, specialization in international relations (Jagiellonian University in Krakow, 2016). Graduate of the School of Human Rights (Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights in Warsaw, 2002), postgraduate studies in Educational Management (University of Information Technology and Management in Rzeszów, 2006). Deputy Head of the UR Political Science Department (2009-2012), Deputy Dean of the UR Faculty of Sociology and History for students and quality of education (2012-2019), Director of the UR Institute of Political Science (from 2020). Specialises in the issues of international relations, national and ethnic minorities, human rights with particular emphasis on the Slovak Republic, war crimes and genocide in the former Yugoslavia. Author of 150 publications, delivered dozens of papers at international and national scientific conferences, initiator and organiser of four editions of international human rights congresses. Member of the Slovak Foreign Policy Association, the Polish Society for European Studies, the Polish Political Science Association (serves as president of the Rzeszów branch). Member of the Scientific and Editorial Board of 'Politics and Society', 'UR Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences', 'Athenaeum. Polish Political Studies', 'Kavkaz. Past-Teraźniejszość-przyszłość', "Facta Simonidis". Chairman of the Podkarpackie Committee of the Security and Defence Knowledge Olympiad, organiser of the film festival „Watch Docs. Human Rights in Film". She cooperates with Polish organisations in Brazil and the United States of America as well as non-governmental organisations: Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights, Amnesty International, Heinrich Boell Stiftung and La Strada Foundation. She collaborates with a number of research centres abroad: Landau-Koblenz University, University of Bielefeld, University of Leipzig (Germany), Frederick II University of Naples (Italy), University of Prešov, Pan-European University in Bratislava, Slovak Academy of Sciences (Slovakia), Ukrainian Catholic University in Lviv, Ivan Franko University in Lviv, Podkarpacie National University named after Vasyl Stefanyk in Lviv, and the University of Podkarpacie. Vasyl Stefanyk National University in Ivano-Frankivsk, Pyotr Konashevich Sahaydachy Academy of Land Forces in Lviv, Kyiv National University of Trade and Economics (Ukraine), University of Belgrade (Serbia).