

Marta Sagan-Martko, PhD, employed at the Department of Financial Law (Institute of Legal Sciences of the University of Rzeszów), attorney-at-law. Since 2024, member of the Commission for Legal Apprenticeships at the Bar Association of Attorneys-at-Law in Rzeszów, head of the team for contacts with universities, in the years 2020-2024 member of the Commission for Legal Apprenticeships and Human Rights at the Bar Association of Attorneys-at-Law in Rzeszów. Graduate of the University of Rzeszów (2016) - master's degree in law and the University of Silesia (2015) - bachelor's degree in philology with specialization in Italian. She completed partial studies in law as part of the Erasmus+ program at the Faculty of Law of the Università degli Studi del Sannio in Benevento, Italy. In the years 2017-2019, she completed attorney-at-law apprenticeship. In 2020, she obtained her Ph.D. based on the dissertation on “Bank Secrecy and the Right to Privacy in Polish Law” (John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin). She taught classes as part of the Erasmus+ program in Italy (Università Suor Orsola Benincasa in Naples, Università Roma Tre in Rome) and Croatia (University of Rijeka). Her research interests focus on the right to privacy, with particular emphasis on the institution of bank secrecy and the activities of tax authorities in the field of obtaining confidential data, as well as cynological law.