

Przemysław Maj, degree postdoctoral degree. Place of employment and function University of Rzeszów, supervisor of the university's course in international relations, scientific secretary of the journal „Polityka i Społeczeństwo”. Research interests are related to four areas. The first concerns research on the impact of information and communication technologies on the political system in a democracy. As part of this, he has published, among other things, a monograph entitled Internet i demokracja. Ewolucja systemu politycznego, Rzeszów 2009. Another research area concerns political parties in Poland. This includes a series of articles on political parties and electoral analyses. The third thematic area is related to political theory. Within this thematic strand, one can point to a co-authored monograph by T. Kozięłło, P. Maj, A. Pięta-Szawara, Perspektywy badawcze i dylematy teorii polityki, Rzeszów 2014, pp. 138. The fourth area concerns political values and the related division into left, centre and right. This includes the monograph Lewicowość, centrowość i prawicowość w nauce o polityce, Rzeszów 2018. In 2013, he completed a one-month research fellowship at Pavel Josef Safarik University in Košice (Slovakia).