

Zbigniew Malodobry, is Assistant Professor at the Institute of Political Science, University of Rzeszów. Doctor of Humanities in the discipline of Philosophy 2018 and of Social Sciences in the discipline of Pedagogy 2022. 2016. - 2024 academic teacher at the Małopolska State University as an assistant professor, where he served as head of the departments: Care Pedagogy, Resocialisation Pedagogy and Social Work. From 2019. - 2023, lecturer at the Podhale State Vocational University, where he served as Head of the Department of National Security, Coordinator of the National Security course and Director of the Institute of Social Sciences. As a police officer of many years' standing, he gained experience serving as a unit duty officer, administrator of computer stations for processing classified information and lecturer at the Police School in Katowice and worked as a guard at the Municipal Police Station in Kraków. Graduate of engineering and master's studies at the Pedagogical Academy in Krakow in the field of Technical and Computer Education and postgraduate studies viz: National Security and Crisis Management, Education for Safety, Physical Education, Occupational Health and Safety Management, Human Resources Management, Coaching and Tutoring in Education. Long-time trainer and instructor of Ju Jitsu, holder of 6 DAN. Academic interests: internal security, pedagogy, ethics and philosophy Participant of foreign and national scientific conferences and author and co-author of publications in the field of security, ethics and philosophy. Author of monographs: Professional ethos of a police officer. In search of philosophical foundations.